

DEDICATION:

This book is for the decent people, on this world, and all worlds. I have met many but can mention only Nitaya Polioudakis (Patsanakrison) and Norm Gross.

This book is for people who are trying to make better their community, neighborhood, religious group, ethnic group, gender group, age group, socio-economic class, nation, and the world. Good luck.

“Fury” does not necessarily mean anger, madness, moral zealotry, or bad-ass rebellion. This book is for people who feel a fury inside and need a way to get it out with minimal badness and maximal goodness.

This book is for people who want to blend reason with religion and practicality with ideals.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS:

I thank the Document Delivery Division (Interlibrary Loan) of the Draughon Library of Auburn University with help on getting some books.
