(BC) "Butler / Cunningham". "BC" refers to a position for research and teaching, on agriculture and the environment, in the College of Agriculture of Auburn University in Auburn, Alabama. Claude Boyd held the position from about 2002 to about 2011. For his term, he, Wayne Shell, June burns, and I organized a series of national conferences on topics related to agriculture and the environment. As part of the position and the conferences, I made a website. I count the website as papers and a project. I wrote reports for the website based on my own research. A few are included here. Power Points are intended to be stand-alone to appear on the website, like a report. Items were revised after original appearance date shown below.

2001. World Bank Report by various authors. Shrimp farming and the environment. Synthesis report to the World Bank. (R, PNC)

2002. Kitamura, Paulo Choji et al. Environmental and economic assessment of fee-fishing in Sao Paulo State, Brazil. Publishing venue not reported. (PNC).
